

This is torture. I miss you so so much. I am so far away from you & so scared. I want to see your face & hear your voice & your laugh. Christmas Day was very hard. I stayed in bed all day. I can't describe what it felt like, or how I became so depressed so suddenly. I was just missing a part of myself, too great to ignore. Oh Sweetie, I wish I could of taken you to get pictures of Santa, or dressed you up for Christmas. I bet you looked beautiful, I know you did! I really hope you are having fun and they are treating you with the most love & respect. I had nightmares about making the wrong decision many nights. I would be so happy right now, if I could hold & care for you. I know I could be such a great mom for you. I'm sorry I didn't have faith in myself then to take care of you. I know I could love you like no other! But still, I ~~can't~~ can't come close to providing for you all you deserve. You have a healthy family, a secure future, responsible parents, a support system & community for your family, financial security & sense. Still I want you so bad, sooo bad! I had a dream that my Christmas gift was you. I closed my eyes & then they said open them & you were in front of me. I was holding you & you were
